1257 Konosu, Naka-Machi, Ibaraki-ken Naka-gun, 311 0133, Japan

Brewery Description:

The Kiuchi Brewery was established in 1823 by Kiuchi Gihei, the headman of Konosu village. His family was collecting rice from farmers as land taxes for the Mito Tokugawa family. He began his brewery with the idea of using the remaining rice stocks in the warehouse to produce sake. In 1996, the company started brewing beer with a capacity of 1,500 barrels per year.

Kiuchi No Shizuku Hitachino Nest

Distilled White Ale

■ Spirits

Hitachino Nest White Ale is distilled down to an alcohol content of 30% by volume. It is then matured in oak barrels with the addition of coriander, hops and orange peel for one month. More Hitachino White ale is added and the product is distilled again to an alcohol content of 50% by volume. After the second distillation Kiuchi No Shizuku is matured in oak barrels for six months.

It is then filtered and bottled at a final 43% alcohol by volume 86% Proof.

Kiuchi Yuzu Wine

■ Sake & Yuzu Wine

Yuzu (citrus aurantium, citrus junos) is a rare hybrid citrus fruit of mysterious provenance grown in China, Tibet but more so in Japan. Its aroma and flavor offer a rare and complex blend of lime, lemon, grapefruit and mandarin orange. While the Yuzu fruit has been historically cultivated as herbal remedy, yuzu has meanwhile become the rage with many chefs of high-end restaurants around the world who rave about the amazingly intense floral citrus fragrance of yuzu. Once opened it keeps about 4 weeks in cold storage. Best serving temperature is like white wine.

Kiuchi Umeshu Distilled Hitachino Nest White Ale w/ Japanese Ume fruit

■ Spirits

The base of our Kiuchi Umeshu is Hitachino Nest White Ale, our world-wide award winning and most celebrated Hitachino Nestbeer.

Hitachino Nest White Ale is gently transformed into spirit by triple distillation using a low temperature vacuum distillation still. Kiuchi Umeshu is completed by maturing the distilled Hitachino Nest White Ale on Kiuchi's Japanese ume (plums) for over six months. It creates a new flavor sensation combining the notes of coriander, hops and orange (Hitachino Nest White Ale) with the unique tartness of Ume fruit.

Kiuchi Owl “High Ball”

■ Spirits

Kiuchi Brewery has been distilling whisky since 2016 with the aim to break the boundaries of Japanese Craft Whisky. This year, Kiuchi is releasing “Hitachino Highball”. Using the pure water of Hitachino and the unique aromas and flavors of Kiuchi’s matured whisky, to present a bold yet crisp version of the popular Japanese alcoholic beverage.

Kiuchi whisky is brewed and distilled 100% at Kiuchi Brewery - genuine Japanese Whisky. The Hitachino Highball is crafted with a careful blend of Spanish Sherry and Japanese Wine barreled selection of 3-year matured whisky. The pure water of Hitachino is used to then dilute the whisky down to this bold yet drinkable strength of Highball (10 % alc./vol.).

Ingredients: Whisky (Malted Barley and Grain), Carbonated Water
